

Data Subject Rights Policy

1. Rights of Access to Personal Data ('Subject Access Request')

- 1.1 Individuals have the right to access their personal data and supplementary information which the School holds.
1.2 Where a parent is making a subject access request on behalf of a child who is of secondary school age (and above), the School will usually need the authority of the pupil to release this information to the parent.
1.3 There may be information which the School cannot release when requested; for example, if the personal data of third parties is involved, if the information is privileged or, in certain cases, information is in relation to the safeguarding of a pupil.
1.4 These rules are specific to the formal subject access regime. There may be scope for one-off or occasional sharing of information by agreement between the School and parents and without a pupil's consent, should circumstances deem it lawful and necessary.

2. How to request information (Appendix 1):

- 2.1 To request information from the School, individuals are encouraged to email data@hampton.school.org.uk.
2.2 All requests should be as specific as possible citing exactly what information is required. For example, if a pupil's grades are required then rather than 'Please could I see my Son's school record', the requests should state 'Please could I have a list of my son's grades for this academic year'.

This would mean that the School only has to search one system, taking a relatively short time, as opposed to searching all paper and electronic systems, an expensive and time-consuming process.

- 2.3 Individuals requesting information should include their name and relationship to the data requested (parent / pupil / other). Any third party requests should also be authorised by the relevant parent or pupil. A template outlining all information required by the School to process a request is included in Appendix 1.
2.4 Information may be required to prove an individual's identity; the School will ask for this when a data request is received. If the School is contacted from an email address which has previously been supplied, the School will assume that identity is proven.

Table with 4 columns: Date of next review, As required, Reason for review, As required.

3. Receipt of request for information:

- 3.1 The School is closed on Bank Holidays and for the Christmas and New Year period. During those times, the data email address will not be monitored. The email address will be monitored at all other times, including School holidays.
- 3.2 Data access requests should be made during School hours – between 9.00am and 4.00pm. The School will endeavour to respond to all requests within the statutory period (see Point 4) The School asks that requests are made such that they will be received in School hours between 9am to 4pm. If the request is received on a weekend or outside of School hours then of course the School will endeavour to reply within the statutory period. However, some requests may involve complex document review or redaction because of the data protection obligations owed to other individuals who may be identifiable. Hence the School asks ask for consideration.
- 3.3 Any request received when the data email address mailbox is not monitored will receive an out of office reply giving the date of the School's next working day.

4. Time for response:

- 4.1 The School will usually supply the information requested within one month from receipt.
- 4.2 Data will be provided at no cost. For any additional copies the School may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs.
- 4.3 If a request is considered manifestly unfounded or excessive, the School may refuse to respond. In this case, the School will provide reasons for the refusal

5. How the information will be provided:

- 5.1 Information will be provided electronically via email and encrypted file to the given email address unless a different method is requested.

6. Other rights

- 6.1 Individuals have other rights under the Data Protection law:
- To understand what personal data we use;
 - To require that the School does not send marketing communications.
 - To request that the School erases personal data;
 - To require that the School restricts its data processing activities;
 - To request that the School provides personal data in a reasonable format specified and as specified in the request
 - To require that the School updates any personal data which it may hold and which is incorrect.
- 6.2 Should an individual wish to exercise any of the above rights w, above they should email data@hamptonschool.org.uk.
- 6.3 The School requests that as much information as possible is included in such a request to ensure that the school can process the request, including finding the data to which the request relates.
